Dear Friends

I wonder what you think of our two church buildings?

St Nicholas', built in the 1950s, used and loved by youth groups, Twins and Fun Clubs, MU, WI, Café, St Nick's Flicks, Messy Church and many hirers. Its where we meet to socialise, have meals together and worship. It has a generous car park and lots of garage and internal storage.

St Thomas', built in the 12th century, used and loved daily by visitors and the wider community for weddings, baptisms, funerals, concerts, meetings and worship.

Personally, the moment I step into either building, I feel a sense of belonging. I am struck by the fact that people in the past have put so much love into these buildings, allowing us to enjoy them today. And it's a very attractive idea: that when we put something in ourselves, people in the future will enjoy the fruits of our labours.

They are both very interesting buildings too. Next time you are in the Gwatkin Hall, have a look at the gas pipework, you can still see where the old gas lamps were originally attached. At St Thomas', on the wooden beam above the arch, there is a recess carved for a particular plaque which is long since missing (although it does appear on old photographs).

It's true that they need a lot of updating, particularly St Nicholas', with toilets, lighting and windows. But this is something we can all work towards. St Nicholas' doesn't get many legacies or grants so we need to start fund raising which will give us fellowship and bring it into the 21st century.

Without our two buildings, we would not have a church or a church family and we would not be able to serve the community. We should revere them and be thankful for everything they bring to our lives.

Head Verger*

Saint Thomas Church

By Peter Hirsch

He was quite young, not very tall but held himself very erect. He walked down the swaying, jolting carriage towards us, as we travelled from Rameswaram towards Madras on the narrow gauge railway. He stopped short of where we sat, six British soldiers on our way to the Himalayas. We were not in uniform but must have looked what we were. He singled me out and asked “are you British?” I did not deny it. “Soldiers?” I did not deny that either. He said “I am in the Corps of Signals”. Of the Indian Army, of course. He had recognised the signs that mark out soldiers, especially to other soldiers. I expected him next to ask “Why are you here? He didn’t. He asked “Are you Christian?”

“I am,” I said, hoping but not sure I was speaking for all of us. “Are you?” I asked. “Yes,” he said and sat down. “I am a Christian.”

We told him we were travelling to Kashmir to walk through the mountains to Simla. He told us he was a Corporal of Signals section and had been to Rameswaram to test communications. But it was clear he did not want to talk about things military so I asked if he belonged to the Church of South India. “The Church of Saint Thomas,” he replied. “Not the Church of South India but the Church that Saint Thomas the Apostle had founded.

I had never heard of a Church of St. Thomas – was this “doubting” Thomas, who said he had to put his hand into Jesus side? I had never thought much of him! So, to be sure, I asked the Corporal to tell me about his church and this is what he said. After the Ascension, the disciples had travelled from Judea to spread the Gospel. Thomas had gone east into Parthia and Persia, where he founded numerous churches. He took ship south to Muziris in Kerala, where he founded more churches before following the coast to what the British later called Madras and is now known as Chennai. Such a journey makes those of St Paul of Tarsus a walk in the Park! I changed my mind about St Thomas.

Kottakkavu Mar Thoma Syro-Malabar Pilgrim Church (old), North Paravur, founded by St. Thomas the Apostle and rebuilt by Mar Sabor and Mar Proth in the 9th century

Here, before me, was a Christian of his mission, unafraid to declare his faith in public, before foreigners and in a language not his own. I questioned – and still question – my own courage to do so.

I asked him to tell me more about his Church and its beliefs. What he said amounted to the catholic creed. He said his home was not far from a little church on a hill close to Chennai which had been founded by the saint, and where he was eventually martyred; that the church was active and a lamp was kept burning in memory of Mar (St.) Thomas; and that there were many Christians there, as there are in Kerala. Since Saint Thomas lived until AD 70, it makes our own Church of St Thomas (founded according to some claims about 560 AD) quite a recent foundation!

In AD 883, Alfred the Great (849–899), King of Wessex, reportedly sent gifts to Mar Thoma Christians of India through Sighelm, bishop of Sherborne.

From other sources, I find a tradition that St Thomas sailed on a mission to Indonesia. There is even an oral tradition, recorded by a Jesuit, F.J. Antonio Ruiz de Montoya before 1639. He wrote: "...The Paraguayan tribes have this very curious tradition. They claim that a very holy man (Thomas the Apostle himself), whom they call 'Pai Thom', lived amongst them and preached to them the Holy Truth, wandering and carrying a wooden cross on his back". Half the globe away? Perhaps another holy Saint Thomas?

If this interests you and you have access to the internet, look up Tomas the Apostle and Saint Thomas Christian denominations in Wikipedia.

This gives some idea of the scope of Saint Thomas' mission, from Persia in the North to Kerala in the South, then east to Chennai, where he was martyred.

Baa Baa Black Sheep

by Michael Parham

'Here they come, look you, the Master and his Dame!
Their son, that tiresome boy, that's living down the lane.
Three bad pennies, braving this fine weather,
They'll not make tuppence-h'penny, no, not ever!
'Tis well they say "Birds of a feather."
"Good Morning to you Baa Baa! Have you any wool?"
"I do hope so Master, I'm not a Welsh Black Bull!
Still, wool or none, may I ask, what brings you out this day on such an arduous task?"
"Well now, dear Baa Baa, we'd rather like some wool!"
"Wool, look you, and how much would that be?"
"Well now, we thought say three bags full, one bag each you see."
"Three full bags! After the year I've had dear Sir!
With luck you might clip off three dags!
You'd better ask that Southdown over there,
Her wool's a-growing everywhere,
Head, tail and neck, shoulders, legs and back."
"We don't want grubby white wool off of her,
We want your wool, of purest black."
"Oh yes, I'm well aware of that,
It's always worth an extra bob or two,
Not least to idle coves like you!"
"Pardon dear Baa Baa, may we not have your wool?"
"Yes Master, of course you may, when I can give a fleece,
When your boy turns his hand to work,
When you Sir, and your so-called wife,
Decide to give this sheep a well-fed, cared-for life!"
"Fie Miss Baa Baa, how cruel you speak!
We are respectable, just very poor and very tired, and very, very weak,
Of what you say we hardly dare to think!"
"Then I'll think for you, Master, Dame, and little boy!
Give me a stream, a dewpond for to drink,
A mile of tight and herby turf,
A fresh dry bed, a crib of flowered hay,
Turnips - with green tops left on mind -
Washed, clean, no dirt or grit -
Now go your way, don't ask again until you've seen to it!"
Leave this sheep in needful peace.
'Calling me Baa Baa! Asking a half-starved ewe if she's got wool!
I was born a Welsh Black Mountain sheep - I was not born a fool!'

HELP REFUGEES

The Special Collection next month is to be devoted to Help Refugees.

The charity is the leading UK NGO (Non-Governmental Organisation) in a new movement of humanitarian aid, expanding and directly responding to the ever-changing needs of the refugee crisis. Unrestricted by red tape they get aid to those who need it most – for those displaced in Europe and beyond.

More than 96% of their funds go straight to the field. With no bureaucracy and minimal overheads, every £1 raised can be traced to its tangible impact on the ground.

Help Refugees will continue to empower local communities and help refugees to rebuild their lives.

THE MANOR TRUST

Just before Christmas 2017, the Secret Bookshop presented a special framed art print to the Trust for The Waterloo Room at The Elms. The print, entitled Scotland Forever! is a dramatic picture of the Scots Greys cavalry charge at The Battle of Waterloo, painted in 1881 by Lady Elizabeth Butler. Mike Case, a trustee, was there to accept the print on behalf of the Trust, seen here with Wendy Gossop of the Bedhampton Historical Collection.

‘Lenten Valentines’

During this month Ash Wednesday and Valentine’s Day share the same date! It seems an odd mix, yet there is an obvious link: love! Lent, beginning on Ash Wednesday, is about learning how to love God more, as we give Him space in our lives. It’s also an opportunity to reflect on Jesus’ experience in the wilderness (Luke 4:1-13).

Jesus was led into the desert by the Spirit, where He was tempted by Satan, but demonstrated the path of real love. Lent teaches us how to live out the love of God in practice, as we follow Jesus in the way of the cross.

Valentine was Christ’s follower, committed to sharing God’s love with others. We know little about him, except that he was a priest who lived in the 3rd Century AD and was martyred on February 14th.

God obviously approves of romance – after all, putting Adam and Eve alone together in the Garden of Eden was His idea. And romance – love between a man and a woman – has been around ever since.

1st Bedhampton Scout Group

It's new years day as I write this and the Scouts Group is looking forward to an adventurous 2018.

Looking back to December the Scouts delivered Christmas cards in the parish for the elderly and infirm. They also had their annual Christmas camp where guests were treated to a wonderful Christmas meal and after entertainment that can be found nowhere else.

The Cubs organised the parish carol singing which raised over £100 for the Children's Society. Well done to all who came and sang.

The Beavers and Cubs had a joint Christmas Party complete with the fireworks that were left over from November. There is a video of the Grand Finale on our controlled Facebook page (there is a link to it from our brand new website)

Whether you are directly involved in Scouting or are a supporter from afar, I hope you are having an adventurous 2018 and succeeding in your own goals and challenges, no matter how big or small.

Valentine's Day

February is the month of romance. Millions of Valentine cards will be sent in the next week or two, as we celebrate our romantic love for that special person in our lives. But there are other kinds of love to celebrate: and on Candlemas we remember Mary and Joseph taking their baby son to the temple to present him to God. Jesus' whole life was a loving present to us from God. Through his death for us on the cross, and his resurrection, his love can now transform anyone's life. Romances can die, but God's love for us is always there. But it won't do us much good – unless we accept it!

December 2017

By the time this account of our last meeting of the year is being read we will be well into 2018. Due to a visit by Mr Christmas Flu Virus, Marion was not able to join in the meal at The Castle Inn. However, according to reports forwarded to her, everyone had a lovely time and the meal was delicious (as always). Licensee Sarah Mayes welcomed them and Mum Christine had forwarded all the menu choices. It was a quieter meal due to the absence of the vociferous one! This was the final time of getting together in 2017.

We have had our usual varied and busy year and are now looking forward to our AGM and tea party afternoon in January. Ann has prepared our programme for 2018 and we have already had our first monthly communion (always the first Wednesday of the month) at St. Nicholas Church. We have enjoyed the variety of visiting clergy who have helped out in recent months and we look forward eventually to welcoming the new incumbent.

We continue to pray for our members who are unwell and also those who are now indoor members and unable to join us. We wish all our members and our church family a Very Happy 2018 and we look forward to seeing some of you at some of our gatherings. We meet at 2pm on the fourth Tuesday of the month in St. Nicholas Church Hall.
